

Kolo Festival pre and post parties!

This year, the Kolo Festival Board would like to help grow our folk dance and music community by returning to an old tradition – a pre-festival potluck on Thanksgiving with recorded music for dancing; and beginning a new one – a post-festival potluck on Sunday with live music by many of the festival musicians, details below!

Both are free of charge to our community, but contributions of food, drink (and even cash), would be much appreciated!

Thursday:

4-6: There will be some food provided, but please contribute to our potluck -- arrive, socialize in person, relax, eat and drink

6-8: dance to recorded music (by request) run by Loui Tucker

Sunday:

1-2: arrive, socialize, eat and drink – all potluck contributions appreciated!

2-4: dance to live music by some of the festival musicians

4-6: have an opportunity to chat with the board about what you liked, didn't, and how we can all make next year's festival better!

These two events will be hosted at the Cope-a-cabana, where you will find a sauna, hot tub, heated pool, dart board, ping pong table, and a danceable deck, all for you to enjoy!

The Cope-a-cabana is at 433 S. Henry Ave., San Jose, 95117-1628

See you soon!
